CAMPAIGN FOR ADVANCEMENT UPDATE

The Campaign for Advancement Reaches $3.7 Million

250 Attend Macon Area Kickoff

The President and Trustees of Wesleyan College formally opened the Macon division of the College's $8.8 million Campaign for Advancement at the Kickoff Dinner held in the Anderson Dining Hall Thursday evening, September 19. The more than 250 guests present responded enthusiastically to the report that over $3.5 million already had been committed to the campaign. This total has grown to $3,743,768 as of October 25, 1985.

Frank C. Jones, chairman of the Board of Trustees, presided over the program which included speakers Dr. J. Frederick Wilson, Bishop Ernest A. Fitzgerald, President Robert K. Ackerman and Macon Area Campaign Chairman Linda Lane. (Excerpts of Miss Lane's remarks are on page 3.) Following their remarks, the audio-visual presentation prepared especially for the campaign was presented. The program concluded with the candle-light singing of the Alma Mater, led by the Glee Club and the Wesleyannes.

Leadership and major gifts solicitations are being made concurrently with the special gifts effort in the Macon area. The corporate division in Macon is being conducted by the Board of Associates. In addition, area campaigns in Columbus/West Point and Augusta are in formation, and early planning is under way in Atlanta. Already, more than 200 volunteers have agreed to serve in the campaign, the largest in the history of the College.

Dinner guests gather in Anderson Dining Hall for kickoff.

Campaign Leadership Selected

Randolph W. Thrower National Chairman

Trustee Randolph W. Thrower, national campaign chairman, has announced the major leadership assignments for the campaign. John F. Rogers, Jr. of Macon has accepted the steering committee chairmanship. Also serving on the steering committee are Laura Sullivan Barkley '68 and trustees Lovick P. Corn, Dr. William F. Cummings, Frank C. Jones, Valeria McCullough Murphey '48, and H. Dillon Winship, Jr. Representing the administration on the committee in ex-officio capacities are Dr. Robert K. Ackerman and Rose Mary McKelvey '77.

Trustee solicitations are under the leadership of Frank C. Jones, who is joined by Dr. Ralph B. Huston, Robert E. Knox, Jr., Edward S. Sell, Jr., Charles H. Yates, Jr. and Robert M. Young.

The national leadership gifts committee, which seeks gifts in the range of $25,000 and above, is chaired by Lovick P. Corn, assisted by vice-chairman Valeria Murphey. They are joined by trustees Dr. William F. Cummings, W. Tinsley Ellis, Jr., Judy Woodward Gregory '63, Elsie Lowden Hambright '34, Frank C. Jones, Linda Lane, William S. Manning, J. Alan Neal, John F. Rogers, Jr., Randolph W. Thrower, H. Dillon Winship, Jr. and Charles H. Yates, Jr.

The Macon Area Campaign is chaired by Linda Lane. She is assisted by Eleanor Adams Lane '58 and Sandra Bell Shipp '66. Their captains and workers plan to make personal calls on most of the Macon area alumnae before the end of the year.

The Board of Associates currently is organizing to make calls on the corporate community in Macon, seeking its support. Edmund E. Olson is president of the Board of Associates and Chris E. Sheridan, Jr. is the Corporate Campaign Chairman.

The Columbus/West Point campaign is under the combined leadership of Mr. and Mrs. McAllister Isaacs. Team Captains for Columbus include: Mrs. Charles W. Burgin, Mrs. Robert L. Cardin, Mrs. Alpha Boyd Maddox, Mrs. G. Paul Logue, and Mrs. Donald G. Kleiber. They are being assisted in the West Point area by Mr. and Mrs. Dewitt Duskin.

Organization of the Augusta area campaign has begun and a chairman will be announced shortly, with recruitment of volunteers to begin thereafter. Plans now are being made to carry out the campaign in the Atlanta area in early 1986. There also will be organized efforts in other selected areas where sufficient concentrations of alumnae are defined. In one way or another, all alumnae will be contacted so they will have the opportunity of participating in this campaign, which will provide the needed resources for Wesleyan for the 21st century.

Dinner guests hear Macon Area Campaign Chairman Linda Lane state that "the torch has passed to us."

Kickoff Highlights

"The Torch Has Passed to Us"

One of the campaign dinner's highlights was the inspiring message delivered by Macon Campaign Chairman Linda Lane.

"I'm very moved to see so many of you here tonight. You are here for only one reason: you care about this place.

This is a momentous night and, as we embark on the largest fund-raising effort in the history of the college, I sense many ghosts of the past gathering 'round: early founders, men who dared to do something that had never been done before - charter a college to grant degrees to women; a legion of friends and benefactors, colorful and generous, who, because they believed in the significance of this school, gave to it not only their material possessions, but their very life force; an army of alumnae whose dedication and devotion would be the envy of any institution. Those who have gone before have given Wesleyan a history unique in the field of education. I feel they are watching and listening to what we now do for Wesleyan's future.

We seek in this campaign $8,800,000. Tonight we have in hand pledges amounting to $3,500,000, which is forty percent of our goal. The primary thrusts of the campaign are threefold: first, endowment for faculty and curriculum development and student aid; second, physical plant improvements; third, adequate annual fund support of our ongoing operation. Wesleyan will be greatly strengthened by the success of this endeavor. This strength will in turn flow into the city of Macon. Wesleyan is woven into the fabric of this city and the quality of one enhances the quality of the other. Macon is turning into a jewel of a city, of which Wesleyan is a bright and shining facet. This campaign will polish her to a glowing radiance that will continually enrich this community in which we live.

Macon support of this campaign is the keystone to its success. Others will look to what happens here and use the quality and scope of Macon's support as a yardstick by which to determine their own contribution. Those of us who claim both Macon and Wesleyan cherish the support Macon gives us as we strive to confirm and enhance Wesleyan's place in women's higher education.

Many of us have grown up with a real reverence for this school and look upon her as a beloved member of the family. She is a distinguished old lady who is about to celebrate her hundred and fiftieth birthday. Unlike the rest of us though, Wesleyan can drink of the fountain of youth. She can undergo revitalization and become a young girl again. Wesleyan now stands ready for the infusion of resources that this campaign will bring. She has an administration capable of superb leadership. She has a dedicated and committed Board of Trustees and Board of Associates. She has alumnae of great strength and talents. But first and foremost she has a faculty and student body eager for the equipment with which to explore the mysteries and challenges of the future.

Friends, the torch has passed to us. Wesleyan's destiny lies in our hands."

Randolph W. Thrower, National Campaign Chairman.

Ernest A. Fitzgerald, Resident Bishop of the Atlanta Area of the United Methodist Church, delivers greetings to the dinner guests.

Valeria McCullough Murphey '48, vice-chairman of the Leadership Gifts Com., and Dr. Ackerman enjoy a moment of post-dinner conversation.

WOMEN OF ACHIEVEMENT

Wesleyan Adopts Sesquicentennial Theme: 1986 Preparations Almost Complete

Wesleyan College's Sesquicentennial year promises to be a celebration that will blend the past, present and future.

The Sesquicentennial Committee, headed by Eleanor Adams Lane '58, has been meeting since 1983. The members decided not to have the pageantry that dominated the centennial year but instead, to offer a program that is relevant to today's students.

"We want to remind people of Wesleyan's history, to present the College as it is today and to increase its effectiveness today and in the future," said Mrs. Lane. With those objectives in mind, the committee chose the theme, "Women of Achievement."

Throughout the Sesquicentennial year, women of achievement have been invited to campus. The speakers include Rosalynn Carter, Shirley Chisholm, Methodist Bishop Marjorie Matthews, authors Lee

Smith and Ursula LeGuin, Dr. Jane Cary Chapman Peck '53, actress Bettye Ackerman Jaffe and Woodrow Wilson Fellow Judith Davison.

In addition to the speakers, there will be alumnae reunion weekends, an historical exhibit highlighting important events of the College's history, a Sesquicentennial Ball and an alumnae art show. A cooking school will be held by a Wesleyan alumna who has a cooking school in Rome, Italy.

"The students have been very helpful," said Mrs. Lane, "especially in planning a Women's Sesquicentennial Run for Alumnae Weekend. They will have a float in the Cherry Blossom Parade, and the Glee Club will sing at the Cherry Blossom Festival opening ceremonies.

"We want to get them involved," she said. The committee hopes the students will introduce the speakers at the programs and take advantage of opportunities to talk with them.

"It is all part of an education," said Mrs. Lane, referring to the variety of topics. "We want to expose people to ideas, whether they agree or not. We want to give the community the chance to get involved, too." All lecture programs and arts events will be open to the public.

The people of Macon have been involved with the activities of the College since Wesleyan first opened its doors on College Street. When Wesleyan was established as Georgia Female College in 1836, the city of Macon was only 13 years old.

The founding of Wesleyan College is an important chapter in the history of Georgia, also. One hundred and fifty years ago, a group of men had the courage and foresight to obtain a charter for a women's college. It was not just a seminary. It was the first college in the world to offer a college degree to women.

While the founders had many supporters, the overall climate was not altogether positive for this revolutionary idea. The late Catherine Brewer Benson, the first graduate of Georgia Female College, wrote this of her college days: "The idea that woman could compete with strong-minded man in the pursuit of knowledge had never until that late date taken possession of the public mind."

Some people thought women were incapable of learning while others thought education for women was dangerous. Nevertheless, Miss Brewer and 10 other women graduated on the night of July 26, 1840. Wesleyan has graduated a class every year since then, even during The War Between The States when many Southern schools closed.

On December 19, 1843, The Georgia Conference of the Methodist Church assumed responsibility for the College, and changed its name to The Wesleyan Female College. It became Wesleyan College in 1917. Beginning in 1928, the College moved to the Rivoli campus. The Wesleyan Conservatory of Music and School of Fine Arts stayed at the College Street location until the fall of 1953.

Wesleyan women founded the country's first sorority, the Adelphean Society, in 1851. In 1904, the society obtained a charter for nationalization and changed its name a year later to Alpha Delta Pi. The Philomathean Society was founded in 1852, and became the Alpha chapter of Phi Mu in 1904.

Wesleyan has the oldest alumnae association of a women's college. Established in 1859, the association published its first newsletter, "The Wesleyan Alumnae," in 1925.

Even as Wesleyan salutes its heritage through the Sesquicentennial, the College looks forward to the future, and has developed a number of programs designed to promote students' academic, physical and spiritual development.

Wesleyan's affiliation with the Methodist Church has always played an important part in the Christian environment at the College. In order to further enhance the spiritual life on today's campus, President Robert K. Ackerman has appointed the Reverend Paula Lytle '80 as part-time chaplain. She is full-time pastor to the East Macon United Methodist Church. Rev. Lytle has instituted Sunday evening campus services at which area ministers will preach.

In order to help its students build a solid foundation for success, Wesleyan continually upgrades and adds to its curriculum. In 1976, The Rotary Club of Macon, in conjunction with Wesleyan, initiated the first Rotary International Internship Program that allows a Wesleyan student to work in her field of study. The program has been so successful that all interested students may participate in at least one internship.

New this year at Wesleyan is the freshman seminar program, "Women: Image and Reality." All freshman are required to take the course, which Dean Kayron McMinn says is designed "to encourage broader exposure in the freshman year. The purpose of the freshman experience is to further the ideal of liberal education and to introduce freshman to a great many disciplines and ways of looking at a single topic."

This year's freshman seminar theme focuses upon images and realities

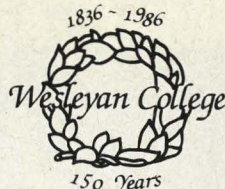

1984-85 Wesleyan Scholars

associated with women — popular and classical images in art and the media, psychological, biological and sociological images contrasted with realities, images of women in drama, literature and poetry, social forces — education, religion, employment — affecting women as well as political perceptions and realities.

The equestrian program was reinstated at Wesleyan in September of this year. The program, headed by Barbara Sneden Exum '66, is part of the physical education department.

Through the years, countless Wesleyan alumnae have become successful in their fields. Dr. Mary McKay, class of 1878, was the first woman in Georgia to receive the Doctor of Medicine degree. Viola Ross Napier '01 was the first woman to argue a case before the Georgia Supreme Court. Rebecca Caudill Ayars '20 was known for her contributions to children's literature. The famous Soong sisters of China studied at Wesleyan. Madame Sun Yat Sen and Madame H. Kung received A.B. degrees. Madame Chiang Kai-Shek completed her freshman year at Wesleyan. Neva Langley Fickling '55 was named Miss America in 1953. Following in the tradition of Dr. Mary McKay 1878, Dr. Kathleen "Kippy" Walsh '76 is the first woman urologist in the state of Louisiana, one of only 22 in the country. The accomplishments of these alumnae only begin to represent the broader body of Wesleyan alumnae who are "Women of Achievement."

The Sesquicentennial year will be a time for looking back at the College's rich history, and a time for looking forward to future generations of successful Wesleyan women.

WOMEN OF ACHIEVEMENT

Judith K. Davison, Woodrow Wilson Fellow, Will Visit Wesleyan

Judith K. Davison, Woodrow Wilson Fellow, will speak at convocation on February 13, 1986.

Ms. Davison became the policy coordinator for Senator Paul Sarbanes in 1983 after serving as legislative director in his office for six years. She was a legislative assistant in Senator Walter F. Mondale's office in 1972 and was a foreign policy aide for the Muskie Election Committee in 1971.

Ms. Davison has reviewed books for The New York Times Book Review and the Washington Star.

As foreign policy staff specialist in 1971, she was responsible for drafting the League of Women Voters Education fund policy publications and position papers.

Formerly an English professor at the University of Niamey, Republic of Niger, and Lycee of the Sacred Heart, Kinshasa, Zaire, Ms. Davison also speaks French, Russian and Serbo-Croatian. From 1959-1961, she was a teaching fellow at Harvard University Graduate School of Arts and Sciences.

The Woodrow Wilson Visiting Fellows program is a national effort to help students prepare for productive citizenship in the public and private spheres. For more than a decade, Visiting Fellows have brought about closer relations between the academic and non-academic worlds, between campus and community, between academic theory and practical reality. Since 1973, 174 colleges have been invited to participate in the program for three years or longer.

Visiting Fellows are successful men and women from business, journalism, public service, and other professions who are recruited by the Woodrow Wilson National Fellowship Foundation and placed on the campuses of small liberal arts colleges for a week of intensive dialogue with students and faculty.

Ms. Davison is the second Woodrow Wilson Fellow to visit Wesleyan during the 1985-86 academic year. The first was Gretchen Handwerger, a World Bank official and former deputy director of the Peace Corps.

Jane Cary Chapman Peck Will Give Belk Lectures

Dr. Jane Cary Chapman Peck '53, professor and author, will be the Belk Lecturer on January 23, 1986. Dr. Peck is associate professor of religion and society at Andover Newton Theological School in Newton Centre, MA. In 1984, she and 13 other Protestant leaders met with key Reagan administration officials and Congressional leaders to give their views on U.S. policy in Central America. That same year, she wrote "Self and Family," which addresses how Christian family women can deal with stress in today's society. In 1976, her paper, "Successful Social Change in School Desegregation: A Model and a Case Study," was read at the annual meeting of The American Society of Christian Ethics, of which she is a member. She also is a member of the American Academy of Religion and The American Sociological Association. Dr. Peck was co-organizer and administrator of Aid Children Today, which helped raise $40,000 for orphanages in Vietnam. In 1978, she received a Distinguished Achievement Award from the Wesleyan Alumnae Association.

Ursula LeGuin Inaugurates Lecture Series

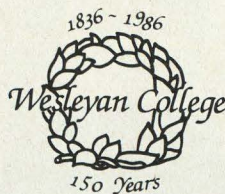

Author Ursula LeGuin will inaugurate the Katharine Payne Carnes lecture series in September, 1986.

Known for her science fiction and fantasy novels, Mrs. LeGuin also writes short stories, poetry and criticism. Her newest book, Always Coming Home, was described in The New York Times Book Review as a "most consistently lyric and luminous book in a career adorned with some of the most precise and passionate prose in the service of a major imaginative vision." Time also has praised her work.

Some of her awards have included the Boston Globe-Hornbrook award for excellence in juvenile fiction in 1968, the Hugo award for best novel in 1969 and again in 1975 and a National Book Award for children's books in 1973.

She received the B.A. degree from Radcliff College in 1951 and the M.A. from Columbia University in 1952. A native of Berkeley, CA, Mrs. LeGuin lives in Portland, OR.

The lecture series was established to perpetuate the memory of Katharine Payne Carnes, Librarian Emeritus and distinguished Alumna of Wesleyan College, through a living memorial that will honor the accomplishments of women and inspire women to greater achievements.

Helen Thomas of UPI Will Be April Speaker

Journalist Helen Thomas will be the Convocation speaker at 11:15 a.m. on April 3, 1986. Ms. Thomas, the White House bureau chief for United Press International, is the first woman to head the presidential coverage for a major news service. She has been reporting the activities of Presidents and their wives since 1960. President Ronald Reagan is the sixth President she has covered. She has traveled to China with Richard Nixon, Henry Kissinger and Gerald Ford. Ms. Thomas attended Camp David meetings during the Carter Administration and in 1983, she covered the visit of England's Queen Elizabeth II. In 1975, she was the first woman to be elected president of the White House Correspondents' Association. That same year, she became the first woman elected to the Gridiron Club, which had limited its membership to males since 1885. Ms. Thomas also received the 1975 Distinguished Achievement Award for newspaper journalism presented by the Journalism Alumni Association of the University of Southern California. Her book, "Dateline: White House," describes her experiences while covering the Presidents and their families, from the Kennedys to the Fords.

Shirley Chisholm

leading member of the Congressional Black Caucus, in 1972 she became the first Black woman to seek the presidency, campaigning for the Democratic Party nomination. Although her bid was unsuccessful, she wrote a book about her experience, "The Good Fight." She also has written her autobiography, "Unbought and Unbossed." Mrs. Chisholm has earned praise for her efforts on behalf of Black colleges, compensatory education, minimum wage for domestics, American Indians, the Haitian refugees, migrant farm workers and the poor.

WOMEN OF ACHIEVEMENT Lee Smith to be Lamar Lecturer

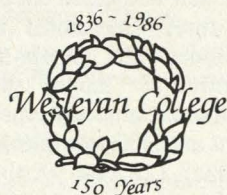

Lee Smith, author, will be the speaker for Wesleyan's twenty-sixth annual Lamar Lecture Series on March 6, 1986. A teacher at North Carolina State University in Raleigh, NC, she has been described as one of our foremost chroniclers of the South. Her most recent novel is "Family Linen," which emphasizes social appearances vs. secret turmoil. She has received two O. Henry Awards and the Book-of-the-Month Club National Award. She has published stories in Redbook, McCall's, Carolina Quarterly, Southern Exposure and Ingenue. Her books include "The Last Day the Dogbushes Bloomed," "Something in the Wind," "Fancy Strut," "Black Mountain Breakdown" (1980) and "Oral History" (1983). A native of Grundy, VA, Ms. Smith now lives in Chapel Hill, NC. She worked as a reporter in Alabama for "The Tuscaloosa News."

The Lamar Lecture Series is made possible by the enlightened generosity of Eugenia Dorothy Blount Lamar, one of Wesleyan's most distinguished alumnae (class of 1883) and one of Macon's most illustrious citizens. Mrs. Lamar was an active and dedicated community leader and an honored trustee of Wesleyan for many years. Her aim in establishing the Eugenia Dorothy Blount Lamar Lecture Series was to encourage and perpetuate the culture of the South by providing a fund which would bring outstanding men and women to speak at her own college.

Jo Patterson Bettoja '47, a Conservatory graduate turned international chef and author, will conduct a cooking school at the College on April 2, 3 and 4, 1986. Formerly a high fashion model, Mrs. Bettoja attended Ada Parasiliti's cooking school in Milan. In 1976, she and an Italian friend, Anna Maria Cornetto, opened a cooking school in Rome called "Lo Scaldavivande," (trans: the covered dish). They also co-authored a cookbook titled "Italian Cooking in the Grand Tradition."

WOMEN OF ACHIEVEMENT Bishop Marjorie Matthews to be Belk Lecturer Next Fall

On October 16, 1986 Marjorie Matthews, the first woman Bishop of the United Methodist Church, will be the Belk Lecturer. Secretary to the president and assistant treasurer of an automotive parts manufacturing firm for 17 years, the now-retired Bishop was ordained a deacon in 1963. As a part-time local pastor, she served rural churches which could not afford a full-time pastor. Her work was recognized, and she became a member of the cabinet of Bishop Dwight Loder and superintendent of the West Michigan Grand Traverse District. In 1980, at the age of 64, she was named Bishop of Wisconsin's 131,000 United Methodists.

The Belk Lectureship was established in 1924 by the Reverend Mr. Belk, a trustee of Wesleyan, for the purpose of bringing notable lecturers to the campus and the community. It was the first endowed lectureship in a woman's college in the South.

Wesleyan to Hold Sesquicentennial Alumnae Art Exhibit

A juried alumnae art exhibit is planned for November 2-30 in the East Gallery of the Porter Fine Arts Building. The art show is open to all Wesleyan alumnae and will be judged by Ouida Canaday of Atlanta. There is no entry fee. Works must have been completed within the last three years. All media, including fine and commercial art, is eligible. The exhibit will be juried by slides. Each artist may enter three works depicted in slides accompanied by a stamped, self-addressed envelope. Two slides of three-dimensional works are allowed. Slides must contain the following information: name, title, date, medium, dimensions and type of work. Entry forms and slides are due at Wesleyan by September 12, 1986. Artists will be notified of acceptance or rejection from September 22-26.

On Friday, October 17, 1986, the works themselves are due at the college. Entries must meet Parcel Post or U.P.S. size requirements of 108" girth plus width or be hand delivered by the artist, from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. to the East Gallery. Artists are responsible for all shipping costs.

Hand-delivered artwork should be picked up between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. on December 1. All other works will be returned from December 8-12. Any works sent without return postage will be returned C.O.D.

Mrs. Canaday, who is an artist and teacher and executive director of Atelier, a studio and gallery for professional artists in Atlanta, will present the awards on Sunday, November 2, 1986.

Wesleyan anticipates purchase awards by the local business community and the college for its permanent collection. All works can be sold. Wesleyan will not take a commission on sales.

Wesleyan Honors Thomas Hardeman Family

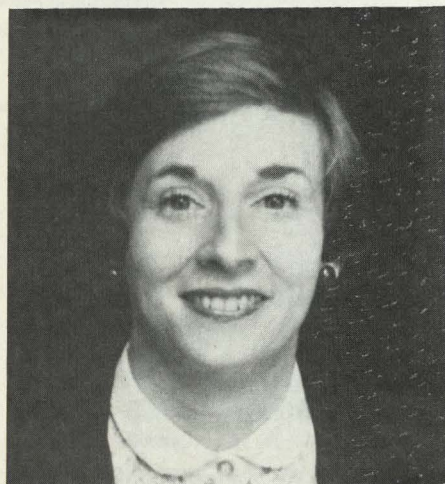

A distinguished Macon family which sent seven daughters and subsequently five generations of graduates to Wesleyan College was honored at the College's Fall Convocation.

A plaque in recognition of the family of Thomas Hardeman, and his wife, Sarah Bluett Sparks Hardeman, was presented by Wesleyan President Robert K. Ackerman. The great-great grandchildren of the Hardemans, Laura Nell Anderson O'Callaghan, and Peyton T. Anderson, Jr. live in Macon. Mrs. O'Callaghan accepted the plaque on behalf of the family. The plaque is mounted on the Loggia and bears the following inscription:

"In Recognition of the Distinguished Family of Thomas Hardeman, 1797-1861, a trustee of Wesleyan College, and his wife, Sarah Bluett Sparks, 1804-1877, whose loyalty and devotion to Wesleyan continued through five generations of graduates.

New Faculty and Administrative Staff Members Begin Duties at Wesleyan

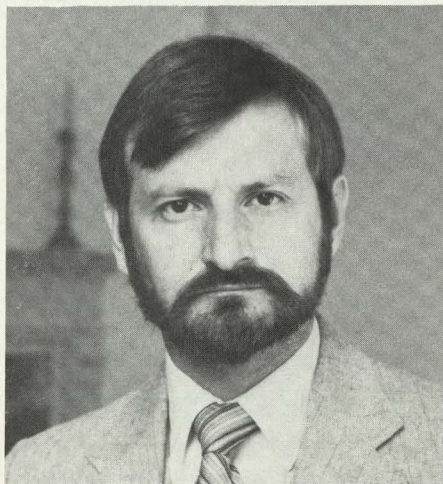

Dean Earwood-Smith

Dr. Glenda-Earwood Smith is the new dean of students, succeeding Mary Pate Hatfield '48, who retired last summer after 40 years of distinguished service to the college. Dean Earwood-Smith was for two years assistant dean of students and assistant to the vice president for student services at Southeast Missouri State University in Cape Girardeau, MO. She previously was director of student life at Austin Peay State University in Tennessee for two years, and she was a counselor for student life at Georgia Southwestern from 1975 to 1978. Dr. Earwood-Smith earned a Ph.D. from Florida State, the M.Ed. and B.S. from Auburn.

In September the new dean was selected by the National Association of Women Deans, Administrators and Counselors as one of 20 women to attend the American Council on Education's National Forum on Education for Women Administrators in Higher Education. In November, she attended the annual convention of the Southern Association of College Student Affairs in Nashville, where she received a Research Incentive Grant for research to be conducted on student involvement and academic success. She also is chairing the New Professionals Committee and serving on the Nominations Committee for the upcoming year.

Seven new faculty and two new administrative staff members assumed their posts this fall.

Dr. Timothy H. Baughman is instructor of history/political science. He earned the B.S. from Stetson University; the M.A. from The Ohio State University; and the Ph.D. from Florida State University. Dr. Baughman comes to Wesleyan from John Wiley and Sons, Publishers, where he participated in all aspects of college textbook publishing.

Ms. Hopper

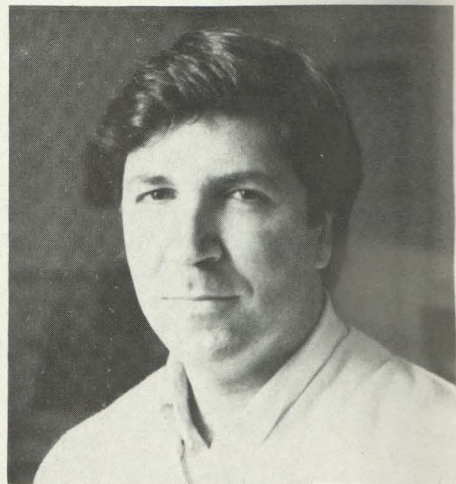

Alice Hopper, assistant professor of music, earned the B.M. from Murray State University, and the M.M. from the University of Illinois. Ms. Hopper taught at DePauw University for several years, studied and worked in Austria and Germany for three years, and most recently has been an instructor at The Houston Conservatory of Music.

Patricia James, assistant professor of art, earned the B.F.A. in painting at the University of Illinois and the M.F.A. in Sculpture at Bradley University in Peoria.

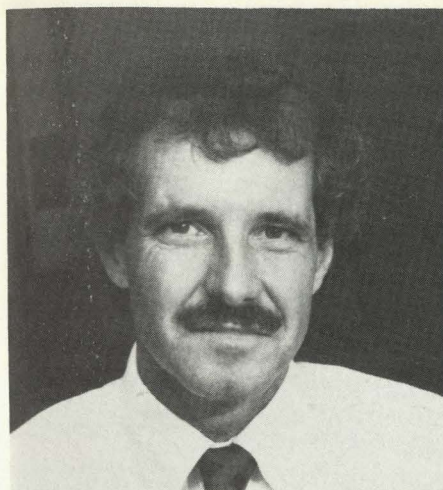

Ms. James

She also has studied art and sculpture at Miami University in Oxford, Ohio, the American Academy of Art in Chicago and the Naguib School of Sculpture in Glenn Ellyn, IL. Ms. James previously taught three-dimensional design, sculpture and beginning drawing at Bradley University. Prior to that, she taught at Northwestern University's Mini-U Program and several Chicago art centers and schools. She has had a number of exhibitions and commissions in the midwestern and eastern U.S.

Dr. Khoury

Dr. Robert M. Khoury is associate professor of sociology. He earned the B.A. from the City College of the City University of New York, the M.A. from Florida Atlantic University and the Ph.D. from the University of Georgia. Dr. Khoury comes to Wesleyan from Indiana University-Purdue University at Indianapolis, Columbus Campus, where he had been an assistant professor since 1979.

Dr. Relyea

Dr. Kenneth Relyea, associate professor of biology and chairman of the Science and Mathematics Division, earned the B.A. and M.S. degrees from Florida State University and the Ph.D. degree from Tulane University. He formerly taught at Ohio Dominican College, where he was chairman of the Biology Department. He also spent several years teaching at the University of Kuwait.

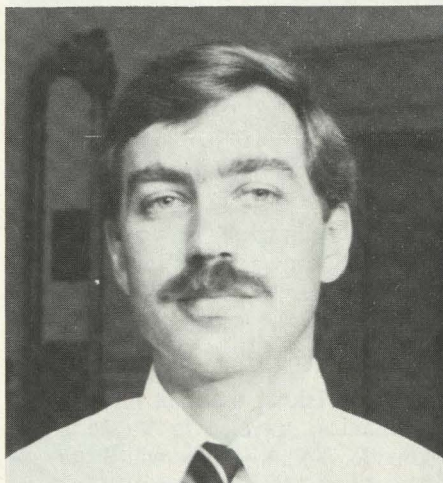

Mrs. Velie

Mrs. Lynn Velie, C.P.A., is instructor of business administration. She received the B.B.A. from Valdosta State College, and the M.Acct. from the University of Georgia. Ms. Velie previously was senior accountant with the accounting firm of Clifton, Lipford and Taylor.

Joanne Weaver, former executive director of the Macon Chapter of the American Red Cross for six years, has been named the Director of the Annual Fund. She previously was executive director of the Bibb-Jones unit of the American Cancer Society. Mrs. Weaver attended the University of Georgia.

Dr. G. Daniel Weese, associate professor of psychology, received the A.B. degree from Washington University; and the Ph.D. from Indiana University. Dr. Weese has been taking courses in pharmacological research at the University of Medicine and Dentistry of New Jersey for the past year. Before that, he was assistant professor of psychology at Emory and Henry College.

Dr. Weese

Rev. Lytle

The Rev. Paula Lytle '80 is Wesleyan's part-time chaplain. Rev. Lytle, who is full time pastor of the East Macon United Methodist Church, is a summa cum laude graduate of Wesleyan and earned the M.Div. degree from the Candler School of Theology at Emory University. Rev. Lytle has been working with the Council on Religious Concerns and has reinstituted, at the request of students, Sunday evening vespers services.

FACULTY NOTES

Dr. Glenna A. Dod, associate professor of business, is a member of the Small Business Development Council of the Macon-Bibb County Chamber of Commerce. Dr. Dod also has completed a 1985 summer research project abroad, "International Advertising."

Dr. Robert Khoury, associate professor of sociology, has been designing micro-computer software to be used in teaching sociology. Dr. Khoury's research and writing are organized into two parts. The first part gives expression to the problem of social organization in the world of work and has appeared in Free Inquiry in Creative Sociology, Psychological Reports, Research in Higher Education, International Behavioral Scientist, and International Review of History and Political Science. The second part deals with attitude formation and measurement in the areas of time and humor and may be found in Social Behavior and Personality, Psychology, Perceptual and Motor Skills, and The Midwest Quarterly.

Art Werger, assistant professor of art, recently received the Price Waterhouse award at the 61st annual International Competition of the Print Club in Philadelphia, PA. The etching "Urban Nocturne" was one of 72 accepted prints chosen from over 2,100 entries.

Two etchings, "City Lights" and "Twilight" were among the 74 selected works chosen from 1800 entries at the Clemson National Print and Drawing Exhibition 1985. "City Lights" received an Honorable Mention.

He also was chosen to participate in two national printmaking invitational exhibits: "Printmaking '85, the Tallahassee Invitational" and the "Ninth University of Dallas National Print Invitational."

As a recipient of a 1985 NEA/SECCA Southeastern Artist Fellowship Grant, Mr. Werger currently is preparing works for the "Southeast Seven 9" exhibit to be held in the Southeast Center for Contemporary Art in Winston-Salem, NC, in April of 1986. This exhibit will run concurrently with an exhibit entitled "Georgia Print-makers" in the High Museum of Art in Atlanta.

The works of Scott Duce, assistant professor of art, have been widely displayed this fall. In fact, they have appeared from two miles up in the sky to several locations on land in the South. Duce was selected as the featured artist for the October issue of "Pace," Piedmont Airlines' in-flight magazine. Photographs of several of his works appeared in the magazine's opening pages. He also had a one-person exhibition at Atlanta's McIntosh Gallery. The exhibit, entitled, "Southern Airport Landscapes," was on display during part of October and November.

Duce is one of the eight southeastern artists who were chosen to participate in this year's "Southeastern Seven 8," which was displayed this fall at the Hunter Museum of Art in Chattanooga, TN, and at the Gray Gallery/School of Art at Eastern Carolina State University in North Carolina. The exhibit includes the work of artists who have received NEA/SECCA Southeastern Artist Fellowship grants.

Edward Eikner, Comer Associate Professor of Fine Arts, has given a number of recitals and ensemble performances during the past six months. These have included an international chamber music recital last summer in France, in which his performance of a Beethoven Sonata for piano and cello was praised by reviewers in Grenoble's "Le Douphine Libere Isere." This fall, Mr. Eikner also has given solo recitals at Wesleyan, as well as Emory University and Emory at Oxford. In November, he was guest soloist with the Albany, GA, Symphony Orchestra.

Dr. Marcile Taylor, chairman of the Social Sciences Division, attended the Newberry Library Conference on the Impact of Indian History on the Teaching of U.S. History from Oct. 2- Oct. 6 at the Smithsonian Institution in Washington, D.C. The conference addressed how to teach Indian history from the Indian, rather than the white perspective.

Wesleyan faculty members also completed the following activities this summer through research grants:

Dr. Nancy Bryson, assistant professor of chemistry, took a short course at Mt. Holyoke College on chemical instrumentation. She also researched a method to measure bruising in tomatoes at the University of Georgia Experiment Station.

Dr. William Curry, professor of psychology and chairman of behavioral science, developed the content and course materials for a special topics course, "Popular Psychology: Self-Help Techniques," which he plans to teach next fall. The main purpose of the course is to get the students to evaluate the effectiveness of these techniques.

Scott Duce, assistant professor of art, completed three different series of paintings and drawings — "Southern Airport Landscapes," "Dark Passages," and "Southern Views: Middle Georgia."

Dr. John Hemphill and Dr. Scott Hewit, associate professors of education, purchased hardware and software for a microcomputer to be used by education majors, faculty, staff and school age children during college field experiences.

Dr. Joe Iskra, assistant professor of mathematics, traveled to Vanderbilt in Nashville, TN, to confer with Professor Laszlo Marki, Hungarian mathematician, about recent developments in Russian mathematics.

Hilary Kight, instructor of mathematics, did research on non-Euclidean geometry at Emory University.

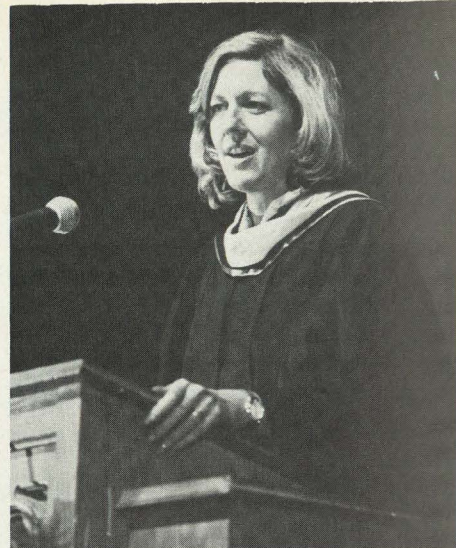

Maureen Massey, instructor of computer science and director of computer services, took two graduate level computer science courses at Georgia State University.

Ann Munck, professor of English, attended the 1985 ADE Summer Seminar at West Point. A forum for administrators of English departments and directors of rhetoric and communication programs, the seminar was an opportunity to exchange common experiences and to consider mutual problems. Cleanth Brooks and Rene Wellek were two of the speakers.

Dr. Sylvia Ross, professor of music, attended the National Workshop of Educational Technology: Videodisc Instruction in Music at the University of Delaware.

Dr. Marcile Taylor, chairman of the social sciences division, wrote a scholarly paper and prepared slides for a presentation to the Popular Culture Association of the South. She also prepared slides for HIS 251 on American westward expansion prior to the Civil War.

Art Werger, assistant professor of art, took an artist's tour of Europe to view the great masterworks in Rome, Florence, Venice and Paris.

Ellen Goodman

Ellen Goodman Convocation Speaker at Wesleyan

Nationally syndicated columnist Ellen Goodman, Pulitzer Prize winner and member of the Washington Post Writers' Group was the College's special guest and speaker at the Fall Convocation Ceremony on September 5. After a morning news conference, Mrs. Goodman spoke to more than 600 people in Porter Auditorium, creating an atmosphere of humor with her description of the perfect superwoman and a thoughtful mood as she explained her perspectives on women's roles in contemporary society.

Following the Convocation, Mrs. Goodman attended a Convocation luncheon at which guests included members of the Thomas J. Hardeman family and editorial staff members of the Macon Telegraph and News, which carries Mrs. Goodman's column.

Dean Kayron McMinn welcomes Maureen Massey, computer science instructor, to the faculty reception held at the Bradley House prior to the opening of school.

Loyalty Fund Campaign Is Underway

With a goal of $300,000 the 1985-86 Alumnae Loyalty Fund Campaign was launched in October. As of December 3, 1985, pledges and funds totalling $73,330.03 have been received.

Loyalty Fund gifts help support many areas of the College including its operational budget, scholarship funds, its faculty, staff training and development, special alumnae leadership training and new and existing programs. This year in honor of the College's 150th anniversary, a special giving category has been added: the Sesquicentennial Club. Donors who pledge an increase of $150 over their previous gift or who make a new gift of $150 will be listed as Sesquicentennial Club members and will be entitled to designate without extra cost five memorial and/or "in honor of" gifts during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1986.

Other methods of Loyalty Fund giving include corporate matching gifts, designated gifts, gifts for new programs and the six giving categories outlined in the Loyalty Fund Brochure.

Many dedicated alumnae have volunteered to help the Loyalty Fund Campaign. Under the leadership of National Chairman "B.J." Hammock Boyes '48 of Atlanta, the Campaign has three divisions.

The following alumnae are division chairmen in the Personal Visitation Division:

The District of Columbia and Virginia - Priscilla Gauthier Bornmann '68

Florida - Carol Ann Golden '67

East Georgia - Anise Willcox McArthur '48 and Rose Crockett McRae '48

North and South Carolina - Sally Fambrough Sanders '55

South Georgia - Rhett Jenkins Smith '48

Middle Georgia - Margaret Moffett Jones '48 and Pat Arnold Ramsey '48

The Phonathon Division is chaired by Glennnda Kingry Gandy '65. The division leaders are:

Alabama - Madge Hill Sidwell '53

North Georgia - Jane Courtenay Shockley '56

Florida - Jo Bogan Prout '66

Tennessee - Cile Adams Mathews '66

Wesleyan College - Glennnda Gandy

The third division, direct mail, is handled by the Wesleyan Alumnae Office.

Kickoff meetings for the Personal Visitation Division have been held in many

A training session for the Alabama Phonathon was held Sept. 28 in Birmingham. Personal visitation campaigns scheduled for the District of Columbia, Lakeland/Lake Wales and Orlando areas will be initiated in 1986.

Phonathon area training meetings have been held in Gainesville, GA - Jane Courtney Shockley, area chairman; Birmingham, AL - Madge Hill Sidwell, area chairman; Knoxville, TN - Cile Adams Matthews, area chairman, and Montene Nelson Mason '45 Knoxville captain; Nashville, TN - Captain Derrill Dunn McRae '71, hostess; Chattanooga, TN - Captain Pat Murphy Persinger '52, hostess. The Phonathons scheduled for the Miami/West Palm/Tampa areas will take place after the first of the year.

National Chairman "B.J." Boyes is excited about the personal contacts made thus far. "The Alumnae Office hopes to expand the numbers reached each year," she said. "A New Year's Resolution is to strengthen communication between all alumnae and the college."

"B.J." and Alumnae Director Frances Bruce Van Horn '58, urge all alums to make their pledges and contributions now. "Nineteen eighty-six will be a very special year, and we hope the alumnae will help it become even more special with their pledges to the Loyalty Fund Campaign. If you have any questions, please call or write the Alumnae Office," they said.

AAR Program, Now in its Fifth Year, Recruits for Wesleyan

Sally Moffett McKenna's first experience with the Alumnae Admissions Representative Program (AAR) was so positive, she still is a participant in the program's fifth year.

"I spent a day on campus at a seminar. I walked away so happy, and I felt like I had inside information about Wesleyan that maybe even some of the students didn't know," said Mrs. McKenna '75.

The AARs are alumnae who volunteer to serve as representatives for Wesleyan in their communities. According to AAR Director Katherine Wilson Johnson '68, they give recruitment a personal touch.

Sally McKenna agrees. "It's a warm way to go about it." A full-time mother and part-time tutor, she is quick to mention that being a representative does not mean "a big time commitment." Mrs. McKenna is the current second vice-president of the Board of Managers and serves as a liaison with the Admissions staff. She receives a list of names of prospective students from Mrs. Johnson every 3 or 4 months. She spends two hours or less making her calls. "Personal calls don't take much time," she said. "I ask if I can answer any questions." If she doesn't know the answers she contacts the Admissions Office and finds out. She then calls the student back with the information, or a staff member from Admissions contacts the student.

The AARs receive updated information and new names on subsequent lists. Sometimes a student has mailed in her application or has been accepted to Wesleyan. The representative then calls with congratulations.

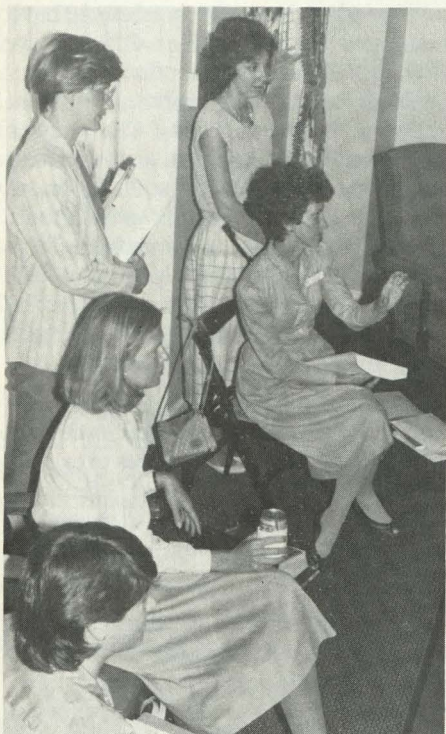

Participation in College Fairs is another way AARs help recruit new students. Glenda Barrett Bull '64, AAR for Augusta, assisted the Admissions representative at the College Fair in her area. Choral Director at two high schools, Mrs. Bull got started in the AAR program when she had a student in her class whom she wanted to recruit for Wesleyan. "I do try to promote Wesleyan," she said. New to the AAR program this year, she plans to have a meeting of all the high school girls on her list so she can talk to them "face-to-face," which she prefers.

program was good. I came strictly because of what they told me. I thought it would be a good choice," she said, since both women are successful in their fields.

The two AARs are neighbors and attend the same church. They received permission from the Bishop to talk about Wesleyan to groups in the area's 10 Methodist churches. "We have been working on this marketing strategy to local churches for over a year," said Mrs. Hamilton. "If it works, we will want to share it." (with other AARs).

The ways in which AARs approach their jobs as recruiters are as varied as the ways they found out about the program. "The graduating senior class is written about the program and they return a card if they're interested in participating when they're located," said Mrs. Johnson. Alumnae at reunions also have received information about AARs.

When they join the program, AARs receive a handbook and a set of admissions material. They regularly are invited to attend the fall Alumnae Council meeting.

The admissions staff listens intently as AAR Director Katherine Wilson Johnson '68 and Admissions Director E. Norman Jones discuss student recruitment with the AARs during a training session.

Nancy Greer Hamilton '69 and Priscilla Gauthier Bornmann '68 are AARs in Alexandria, VA. Mrs. Hamilton, director of a job clearing house, was helping a friend redo her resume and learned the friend's daughter was looking for a college close to her brother at Georgia Tech. Mrs. Hamilton suggested Wesleyan and gave her friend brochures and an application. The daughter is Deborah Bailey, now a Wesleyan freshman interested in pre-law.

Mrs. Hamilton and Mrs. Bornmann, an attorney, spoke to Miss Bailey about the College. "They helped me decide," said Miss Bailey. "They said the undergraduate Afterwards, they meet with the Admissions staff. A newsletter which reports admissions and on-campus activities is mailed quarterly.

"Anyone with a strong interest in student recruitment can participate," said Mrs. Johnson. Women join for a variety of reasons, she said. "They can serve the College in this way, in addition to making financial contributions. It's a service to the College they can perform if they're not in a position to give large amounts of money. And out of love for the College, they're willing to share their positive experience with others."

Alumnae Clubs and Chapters

The Atlanta Club is preparing a quilt to commemorate Wesleyan's 150 years, to be given away at a drawing on Alumnae Weekend. The squares, which are being worked by members of the group, consist of designs showing the Conservatory Tower, the Alumnae Building, the Loggia, the Mt. Vernon Porch, symbols of the classes, and the majors and fashion designs during these years. We think it will be spectacular! Tickets may be bought by sending contributions of $1.00. Please make check to Atlanta Wesleyan Alumnae Club (we're sure you'll want several), and mail along with a stamped self-addressed envelope to: Mrs. Julie Hawk, 4024 Woburn Drive, Tucker, GA 30084. (Without an envelope, the tickets cannot be mailed.)

Atlanta Group VI

Atlanta Group VI met in August at the home of Christine Rountree Anderson, '41, for a salad luncheon. Squares for the Wesleyan quilt which they are making were distributed. The quilt, designed by Beverly Banks Boland, '49, will be made of 21 squares depicting Wesleyan scenes and symbols. They will be worked in embroidery, cross stitch, applique, and fabric paint. The group will meet again soon at the studio shared by Beverly and several other artists.

Gwinnett County Wesleyan Alumnae

A summer get-together barbecue was held by the Gwinnett County Wesleyan Alumnae at the home of Henry and Eugena Craig McGee, '61. The party was held to introduce President and Mrs. Robert Ackerman to these Atlanta alumnae.

Fall meetings have been held in Macon, Atlanta, Americus-Peach area, Savannah and Brunswick, GA. National Capital Club had a covered dish supper at the home of Betty Moss Swygert, '54 in September. Katherine Wilson Johnson, '68, AAR director, attended the supper. New chapters are being formed with the following alumnae as chairmen: Birmingham — Madge Hill Sidwell; Nashville — Dunn McRae; Chattanooga/Lookout Mountain — Pat Murphey Persinger and Knoxville — Cile Adams Matthews.

In Memoriam

George Warren Gignilliat, "Dr. Gin," died July 22, 1985. The following statement was presented by the Wesleyan faculty at its meeting of August 22, 1985, and eloquently represents the sentiments of all those who knew Dr. Gin. (ed.)

GEORGE WARREN GIGNILLIAT, JR.

We, the faculty of Wesleyan College, desire to honor the memory of Dr. George Warren Gignilliat, Jr., who died on July 22, 1985. For thirty-three years he served as Cobb Alumnae Professor of English and Chairman of the English Department. He set a standard of excellence in teaching and administration that distinguished his department and placed him in a position of uniqueness that left an imprint upon the College and upon generations of his students.

"Dr. Gin," as he was affectionately called by his students, was born in Seneca, South Carolina. A Phi Beta Kappa graduate of Davidson College, he went on to earn the Master of Arts degree at Harvard in 1917 where he studied under the renowned Shakespearean and Chaucerian, George Lyman Kittredge. He completed work on his Ph.D. degree at Columbia University in 1932, and in the same year published the definitive biography of Thomas Day, the author of Sandford and Merton.

He served briefly as acting Associate Professor of English at Washington and Lee University before World War I at which time he became first an Army Y.M.C.A. Secretary at Camp Jackson, then a private in the United States Army, and later a Second Lieutenant in the Field Artillery. After the war he was an Instructor in English at the United States Naval Academy, and afterwards a Professor of English at Presbyterian College before coming to Wesleyan in September, 1930.

His role as chairman for more than three decades was enhanced by the vitality and unpretentious charm of his wife, Annie Moore Gignilliat. Two sons, Bill and John, grew up in the white-columned house just off the campus on their way to becoming engineer and college professor. The Gignilliat home and hospitality were the source of warm and happy memories for generations of students, like memories of Dr. Gin's Ginburgers and Mrs. Gin's chocolate cake served under the giant oaks in the backyard. Some will remember a young Dr. Gin on the tennis court in a hard-played game with Dr. Akers or Dr. Drake. Others will recall his common sense tempered by humor in the midst of the turbulent '50's. Still others will think back to recent visits to the house on Wesleyan Woods Drive and to the guided tour down the "deep romantic chasm" planted with wild flowers that represented hours of collecting and planting. All would have a lasting impression of Dr. Gignilliat as a scholar, a gentleman, a loyal friend, and an inspiring and demanding teacher. The dedications of the 1934, the 1955, and the 1963 VETERROPTS would so testify.

The imprint of Dr. Gignilliat's personality is upon all the people and organizations that his life touched. As a churchman he played a leading role. For many years he served as a Sunday School teacher and as a responsible church leader in the Vineville Presbyterian Church; later he became an Elder Emeritus of St. Andrews Presbyterian Church, which he had helped found. When asked at his retirement in 1963 what he had wanted to give his students, he replied, "I want them to have integrity, to have a religion, and to be tolerant of other people. These are brought about by imagination and understanding."

We, the faculty, are grateful for the years that Dr. Gin shared with Wesleyan. He not only professed but illustrated to students and colleagues alike the discipline and the idealism inherent in the phrase noblesse oblige. In the words of his beloved Shakespeare, we say

"...Good night, sweet prince,
And flights of angels sing thee to thy rest."

THELMA FRASER STRICKLAND

On Tuesday, October 22, 1985, Mrs. Thelma Fraser Strickland, wife of Wesleyan's beloved former President, Dr. W. Earl Strickland, died. During the twenty years that she was Wesleyan's first lady, Thelma Strickland was a gracious hostess and a warm and supportive friend to both students and faculty at the College.

A memorial service was held at Mulberry Street United Methodist Church. At 12:30 p.m. on Thursday, October 24, Mr. Herbert Herrington, the college carillonneur, tolled the carillon to acknowledge the death of Thelma Strickland and to commemorate her life and her service to this Wesleyan.

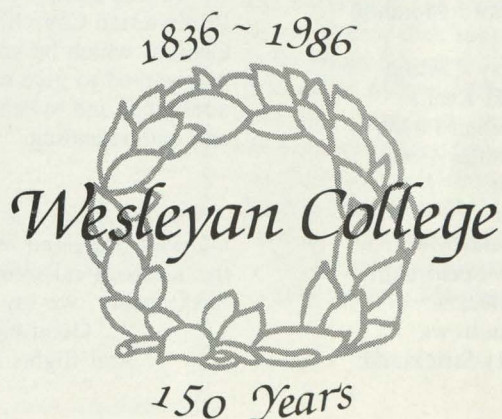

The following tribute to Mrs. Strickland was presented before the Wesleyan faculty on December 5, 1985.

When the Strickland family moved into the President's home, then called Magnolia Hill, the campus was charmed by the young family with their three daughters — Patricia, Ellen, and Margaret. Margaret, the youngest, and a preschooler, was later to become a Wesleyan graduate. Thelma soon fitted into the role of the gracious hostess and true first lady.

She realized the importance to the College of her identifying with the larger community in different areas. As a church woman she served as a member of Mulberry Street United Methodist Church and as a teacher of the Coleman Sunday School Class. She was president of the Macon League of Women Voters, the Rivoli Garden Club and the Federated Garden Clubs of Macon. She was a member of the Y.W.C.A. Board of Directors and Chairman of the Y.W.C.A. Book Review. Her presidency of the Morning Music Club of Macon testified to her support of the cultural life of the community. In addition, she served as patroness of the Wesleyan Chapter of the Sigma Alpha Iota Music Fraternity. She was active in the Wesleyan Faculty Wives Organization and later was president of Wesleyan Women. The Wesleyan Alumnae Association, in recognition of her loyal and devoted service to Wesleyan, in 1977 elected her as an Honorary Alumna.

Her interests extended beyond Wesleyan and the community; she was an avid traveler, and with Dr. Strickland led student tours to Europe. Her home was open to the foreign students at holiday time and frequently in the weeks before school started, and lasting ties of friendship resulted. Her name will continue before the Wesleyan students who are the recipients of assistance from the Thelma Fraser Strickland Scholarship Fund.

Because she always responded to the obligations inherent in her position, because her unfailing presence at the varied affairs of the College attested to her loyalty, because her integrity was identified by an appealing mixture of warmth and candor, because her courage proved her great strength of character during her long illness, we, the Faculty, wish to express our appreciation for her exemplary contribution to Wesleyan and to express to her family a shared sense of loss.

Wesleyan Continues to Study College and Church-Relatedness

In late August, Wesleyan faculty and administrators attended a day-long workshop with scholar-theologian Merimon Cunningham, former dean of the Perkins School of Theology at Southern Methodist University and now president of the Center for Effective Philanthropy. The workshop, the first of two, was funded by a grant from the Division of Higher Education and was entitled, "Into the Third Century: The Meaning of Church-Relatedness for Wesleyan College." Speakers and respondents examined issues including the effect church-relatedness should have on the curriculum, campus life, and hiring and evaluating faculty. A further purpose of the workshop was to assist the faculty and college community in examining the role of the church-related college which is dedicated specifically to the education of women. The second workshop will be held in January of 1986.

Wesleyan faculty members hear a presentation by Dr. Sylvia Ross at the late summer workshop on college and church-relatedness.

A broadcaster in Brevard, FL, Mercer Livermore King, witnessed the beginning of the Space Age at Cape Canaveral 35 years ago. She has traveled around the world covering the space program as a correspondent for both radio stations and newspapers. She is listed as an accredited correspondent in NASA's files, and she still broadcasts over WWBC twice each week. An avid supporter of the space program, Mercer does not care to travel on the shuttle herself. "I don't think there's anything up there I want to see," she says.

In a recent editorial in the Macon Telegraph and News, Margaret Boyd Whitnel, Fulton, KY, took a stroll down Wesleyan's memory lane. Among her remembrances, Margaret states, "We were not allowed to date on the streets, to get into cars with boys unless we were seniors and had permission from our parents. But who could have permission from Florida when Mercer was across town and you met cute boys on the street...But how I loved that college and still do. It gave me the greatest background for life after my family. I'd not trade a day of it for anything."

Margaret Lawrence Armstrong, Savannah, GA, is one of many alumnae to express her sympathy on the death of Dr. Samuel Akers. Peg writes, "He was my all time favorite teacher. I took every class he offered, and I give him credit for opening my mind and extending my mental horizons. I learned that a mind was not just a computer to store facts and figures in, but to be used with imagination and pleasure — and sometimes a little daring!...I enjoy all the news from Wesleyan — to see all the good things that are happening there."

Margaret Budd Stephenson's daughter, Margaret Gail, graduated from Wesleyan in 1953 and taught in the Atlanta school system for 27 years. Her other daughter, Sarah, graduated from Emory University and lives in New Mexico. Margaret and Lee have been married 55 years and reside in Covington, GA.

One of only two women in Macon, GA, who are principals of a local brokerage firm, Joyce Reddick Schafer is vice president of Brown and Groover, Inc., a stock and bond brokerage firm. She says she loves to sell things and create clients, a challenging ambition which she has successfully achieved. Joyce also stays busy as chairman of the Macon Housing Authority.

A Neiman-Marcus fur and jewelry fashion show took center stage at Macon's Hay House this fall. Eight Atlanta models joined six Macon models for the show, including Neva Langley Fickling.

'56 - Reunion in '86

Morgan and Rosalie Voight Johnson wrote to say 1985 has been a year of rejoicing and thanksgiving in Zimbabwe. A three-year drought ended with rains in abundance, and Zimbabwe was able to send 25 tons of flour to Ethiopia. The greatest challenge in Rosalie's work this year is the expanding health care program in which their Mission Hospital is involved. With regard to their children — Linda, '82, completed her two years of teaching as a Peace Corps volunteer in Benin. Mary finished her first degree in the Georgia Tech School of Architecture, and Michael is halfway through the same course. Tendai is at the University of Georgia majoring in art, while Chido is still at Old Mutare in his third year of high school.

A caregiver supervisor at a day care center on a Navy base, Jane Howard Reinmuth has completed her course work and is beginning work on her thesis for a master's degree in early childhood education. Jane and Donald have moved to Port Hueneme, CA, where Donald is a computer programmer for the Navy.

'76 - Reunion in '86

Steve and Carolyn Field Hall became parents on April 29 with the birth of Erik Michael. Carolyn continues as choral director at Evans High School in Augusta, GA.

Between caring for her two sons, ages one and four, and continuing her church work, Ginna Pritchard Ashby, Antioch, TN, has limited spare time. However, she hopes to see all her classmates at their ten-year reunion in April.

The Forester sisters — Kathy, '76; June, '78; Kim, '80; and Christy — were "discovered" last year while opening for Larry Gatlin and the Gatlin Brothers. These accomplished musicians who sing country with a gospel influence were signed to a recording contract in 1984 by Warner Bros. They have two chart-hitting singles — "That's What You Do (When You're in Love)" and "I Fell in Love Again Last Night" and have released a new "Forester Sisters" album under the Warner Bros. label. Kathy taught music to seventh graders, June taught fourth grade, and Kim was studying anthropology at the University of Tennessee before the sisters began performing together full-time.

Home base is still New Salem on Lookout Mountain near Chattanooga, TN.

Since the fall of '83, Lucy Lee-Bonanno has been assistant professor of Spanish at Asbury College in Wilmore, KY. She completed her Ph.D. in Spanish language and literature in Sept. '84. She is also a member of the Executive Committee of the Kentucky Philological Association as state representative to departments of foreign language. Her husband, Alessandro, has completed his Ph.D. and is teaching sociology at the University of Missouri in Columbia. Lucy plans to join him soon.

Thanks to Bryndis Roberts Jenkins, Decatur, GA, for representing Wesleyan at Morris Brown College's presidential inauguration. Bryndis is assistant attorney general for the Georgia State Law Department.

For two years, Janet Keys Rowe has been teaching speech and theatre part-time at Samford University and speech part-time at the University of Alabama at Birmingham where she also is assistant speech coach. Janet writes that she has traveled the southeast with that team. Her husband, Mark, is a plaintiff's attorney with a products liability/consumer liability firm. By the way, classmate Janet Ort sings in the choir at Janet's church.

Kay Appling King opened her new shop, Nora's Loft, in August. The shop specializes in children's shoes and carries some ladies' sizes.

'80

When Deena Harrell married James Wallace on June 22, an informal Wesleyan reunion took place, too. Margie Gillian Hoffman, '79, a bridesmaid at the wedding, and her husband, Larry, have a three-year-old daughter, Audrey Virginia. Margie manages the family business in Columbia, SC. Susan Cartledge, '82, Macon, also a bridesmaid, is a personnel clerk at YKK, USA. Linda C. Moore, '79, and Diana Jones, '80, served. Linda is a clinical psychologist in Atlanta and Diana works for Southern Bell. Margaret E. Slocumb, '29, and Jane Speir Brook, '76, Macon, also attended. Deena works at GEICO, and James is an electrical contractor in Warner Robins, GA.

Having completed her Ed.S. degree in curriculum and instruction at the University of Kentucky where she taught, Valerie Cowart Stricklin looks forward to returning to the Florida Conference of the United Methodist Church with her husband, who is completing his seminary training. Valerie also writes that she was touched to read the tribute to Alice Domingos, '40, Macon, in the Wesleyan Magazine, and that Alice will always be a pillar of the Wesleyan community.

Jeanne Luke has been named the mezzo-soprano apprentice for the Knoxville Opera Company for the 1985-86 season. She will make her debut with the company this spring in "Susannah." This summer she performed the role of Ruth in "Pirates of Penzance" at the University of Tennessee.

Former assistant manager of Trust Company Bank of Middle Georgia's Mulberry Street branch, Kim Crook Wilson, Macon, GA, has now been appointed assistant banking officer.

Mary Gail Thompson Monfort reports that Leslie Buice, '82, married a seminary student, Glenn Carson, on October 12 and will be moving to Texas after the year, and that Wadra Garner, '83, married on August 31. She says it "seems like the marriage bug is biting everyone!"

In a letter to the editor of the Macon Telegraph and News, Sarah L. Bargo wrote that "Wesleyan encourages women to become individuals, to recognize their potential, and to think for themselves. It seeks to make young women realize that they can pursue their dream whether it is in law, medicine, other professional fields, or in the home." Sarah attended Mercer Law School after graduation from Wesleyan.

In September, Linda Johnson completed her two years of teaching as a Peace Corps volunteer in Benin, Africa. Linda visited her parents, Morgan and Rosalie Johnson, '56, in Zimbabwe before returning to the United States to begin graduate studies.

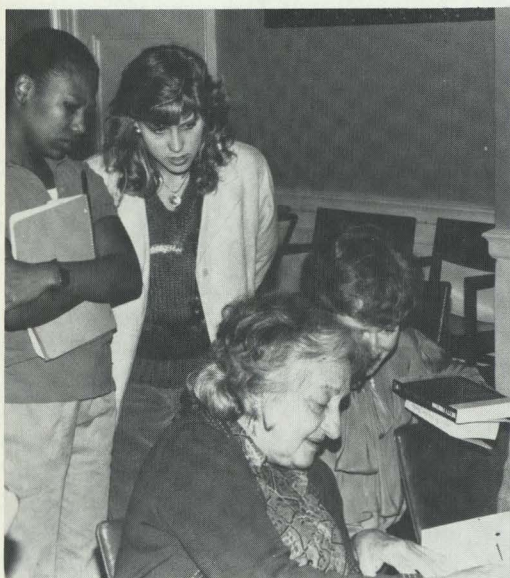

'84 - Reunion in '86

This summer, Dr. Frederick Wilson, husband of Henry Kate Gardner Wilson and former acting president of Wesleyan, gave six Bible talks at First United Methodist Church in Houston, TX, the country's largest Methodist Church in terms of membership. In September, he was the principal speaker for their Fall Family Festival.

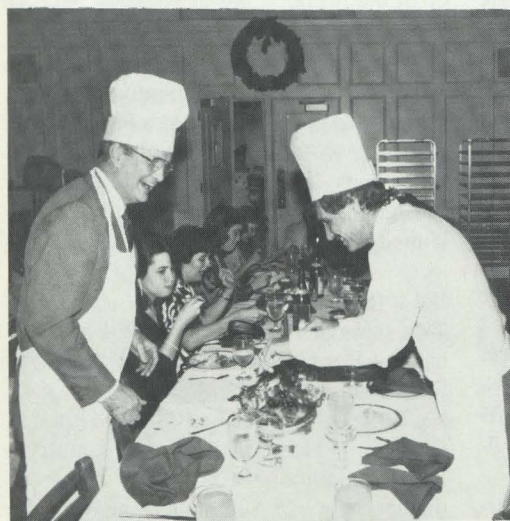

Wesleyan Scenes

Try as they might, the daughters simply couldn't triumph over their dads in a heated volleyball game during Father-Daughter Weekend.

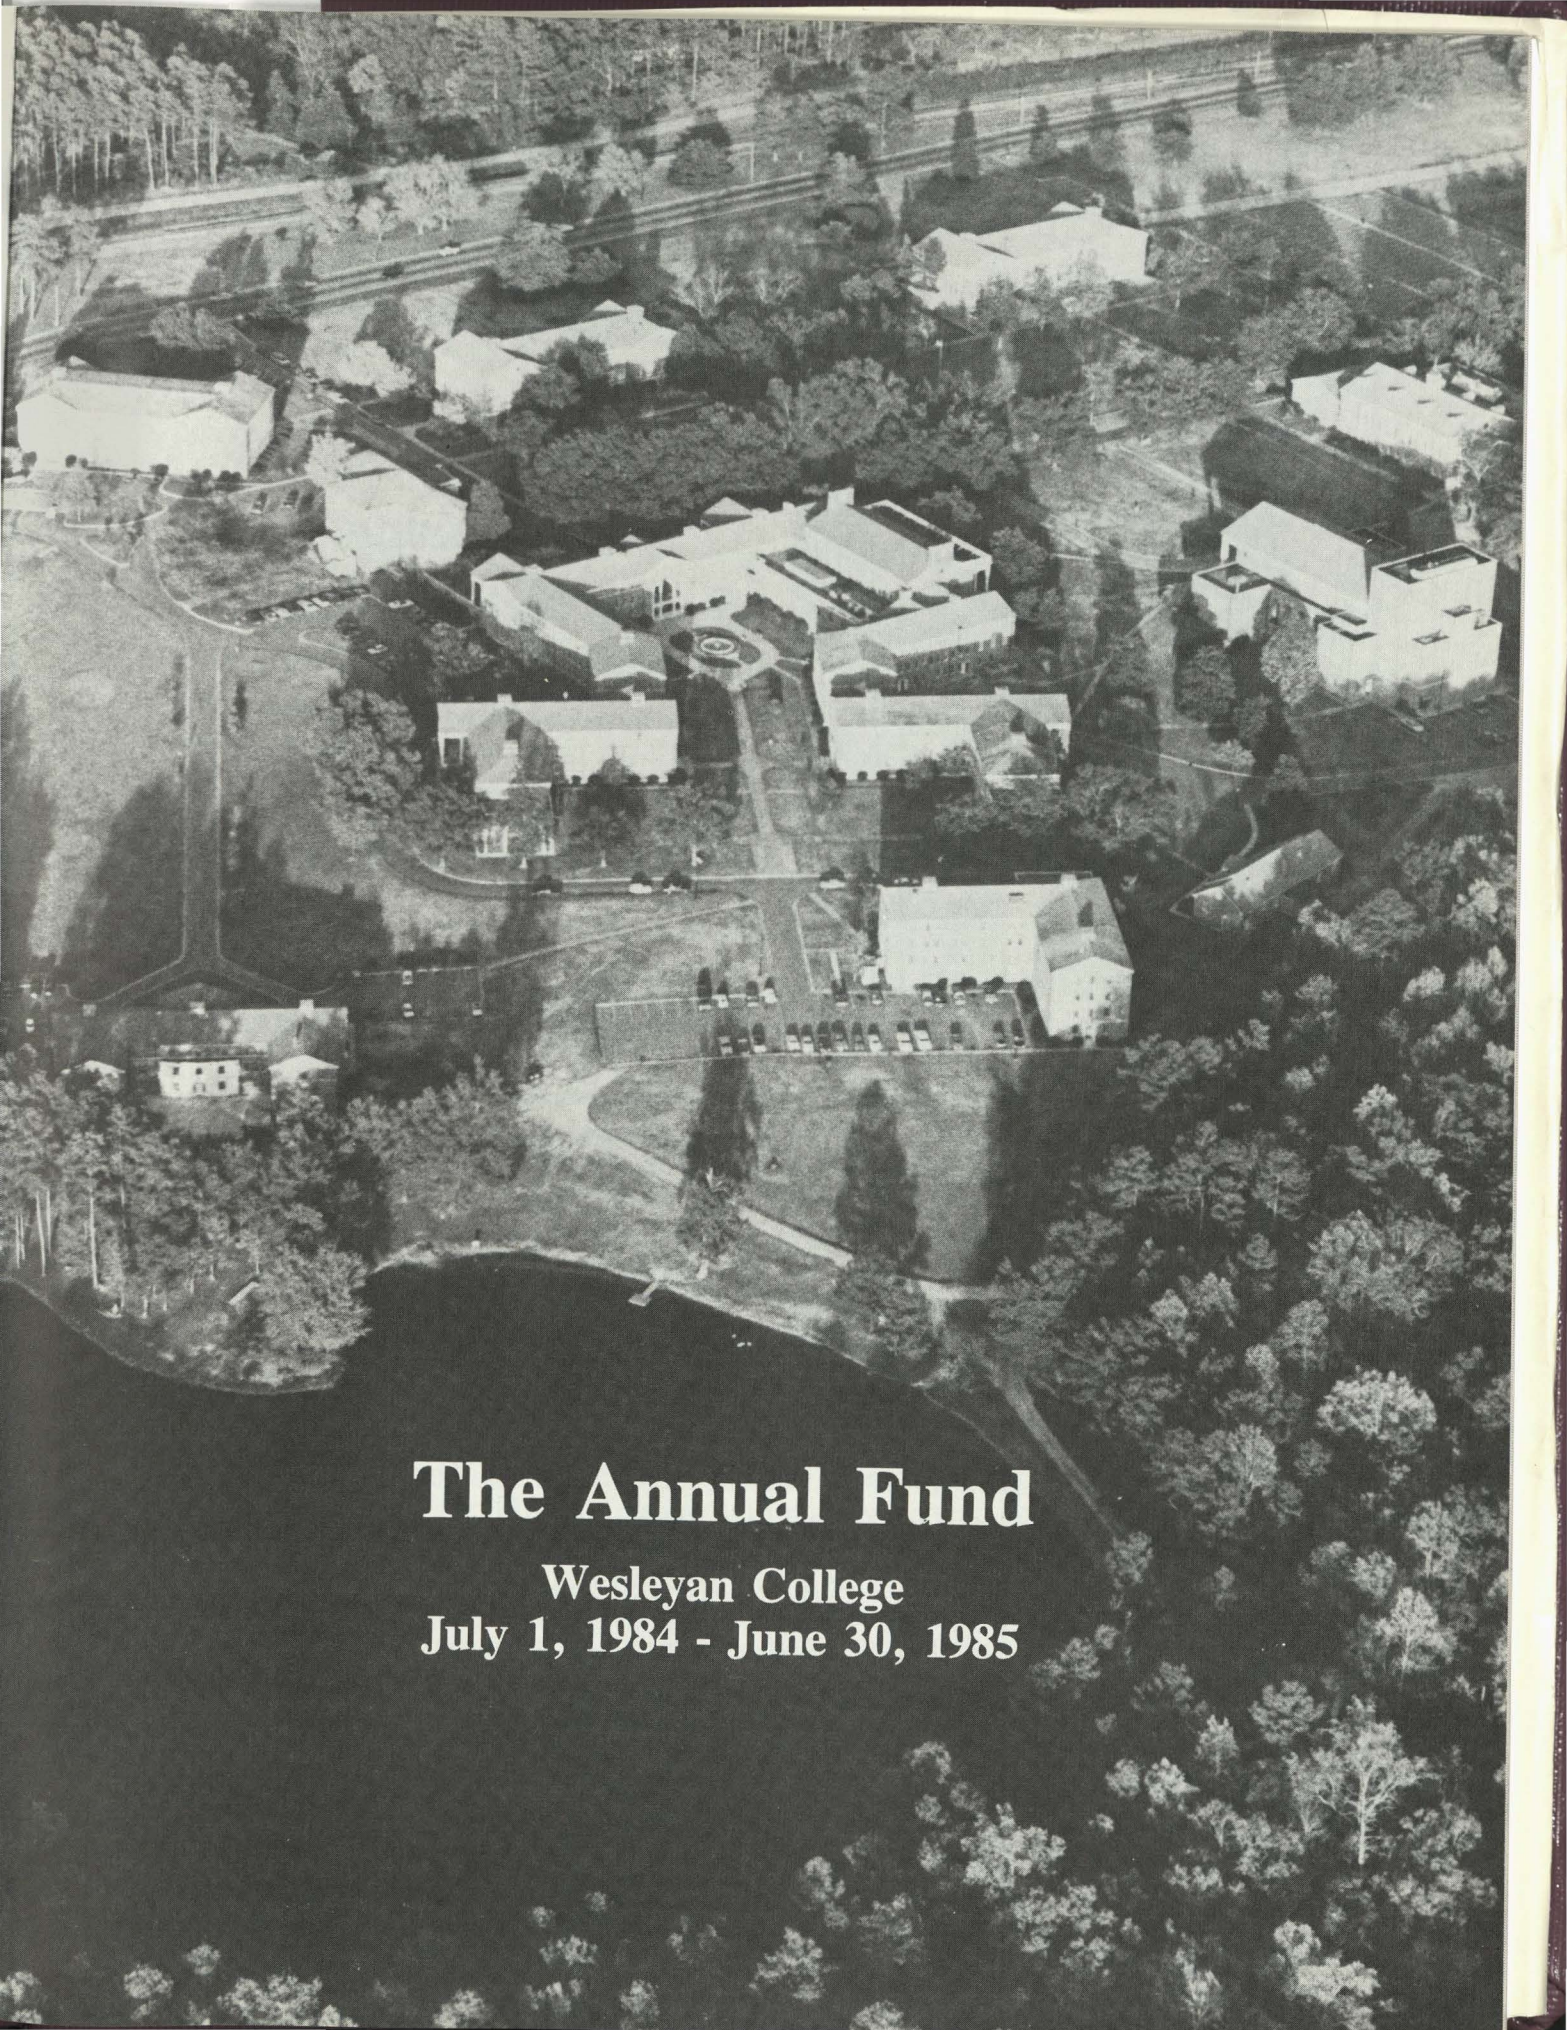

Betty Friedan (left), founder of the National Organization for Women and for 20 years a leader in women's quest for equal rights, visited Wesleyan for the November convocation program to discuss the "second stage" of the movement. At a luncheon for faculty, students, guests from NOW and the media, Ms. Friedan spoke forcefully about the need for women to learn the self-fulfillment which comes from defining what direction their lives should take.

President Ackerman and Dr. Kenneth Relyea joined the festivities of the annual Christmas Banquet, serving the students and tackling the carving of an uncooperative turkey.

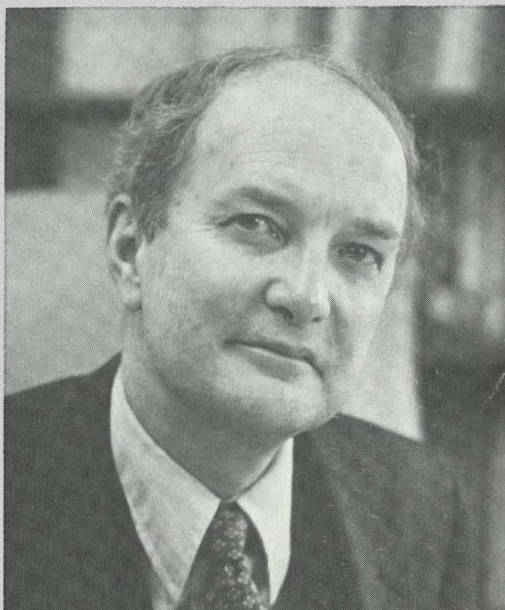

As the character Laurie in "Talking With" by Jane Martin, Celia Hohnadel '86 presented a moving monologue on the death of her mother. "Talking With" was performed at the College's first Lamplighter Dinner Theatre, held in the newly-renovated snack bar on November 16.

A Message From the President

As we enter Wesleyan's Sesquicentennial year, it is my pleasure and privilege to reflect upon the outstanding women who have been a part of this College for a century and a half. During these 150 years, the Wesleyan tradition has imbued them with the intangible gifts of spirit, creative thinking, leadership skills, knowledge and sisterhood. Over the years, alumnae have translated these intangible benefits into tangible realities through outstanding service to their homes, professions and communities. In order for the intangible qualities offered by a Wesleyan education to continue to flourish, the College needs tangible gifts from its supporters.

Let us remember that it is the loyal, sustained giving to the Annual Fund which provides the financial vigor of Wesleyan's mission to educate women. Even while we are engaged in a capital funds campaign, the Annual Fund must not be relegated to a place of lesser importance. It is, as much as ever, vital to this institution.

The goals for Annual Fund giving over the next three years are:

Fiscal 1984-85	$800,000
Fiscal 1985-86	$825,000
Fiscal 1986-87	$875,000

With the help of Wesleyan alumnae and friends, we can meet these goals. To those of you who already have made pledges or gifts, we express our deepest appreciation. To those of you who are contemplating your pledge or gift, we encourage you to consider the seriousness of our educational goals for the women who will be a part of this College in the future.

Wesleyan's Sesquicentennial year is a time to reflect fondly on our history, but it also is a time to contemplate seriously our future. We count on the Wesleyan alumnae and friends to continue their support of this endeavor; to convert intangibles into tangibles; education into practical application; financial goals into fiscal realities. You have the potential to help significantly. We seek your assistance in a superb cause — Wesleyan.

GIFT CLUBS

Wesleyan College has four honorary gift clubs designed to recognize and express appreciation to persons who make major gifts to the Annual Fund. These clubs include primarily donors of unrestricted gifts for operating expenses but also donors of some other major gifts, designated for specific purposes.

The 1836 Club is composed of persons who contribute $100 to $249 to the Annual Fund during one fiscal year.

The Achievement Club is composed of persons who contribute $500 to $999 to the Annual Fund during one fiscal year.

The Heritage Club is composed of persons who contribute $1,000 or more to the Annual Fund during one fiscal year.

The 1986 Club named for the Sesquicentennial Year, 1986, is composed of persons who contribute $250 to $499 to the Annual Fund during one fiscal year.

Wesleyan Scenes

Dr. and Mrs. Ackerman hosted dinners for the freshman and sophomore classes shortly after school opened. They and Sophomore Class President Beth Herndon agreed that everyone had a good time.

A highly-spirited Halloween day brought forth most of the students in very creative costumes. Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs caught the camera's eye.

Wesleyan Scenes

The widely-known psychotherapist, Dr. Albert Ellis of New York spoke at an October convocation program and afterwards, discussed his rational-emotive approach to therapy with faculty members during lunch.

The outfit modeled here by Candace Wells '86 is her original creation which was pictured in a recent southeastern edition of "Women's Wear Daily."

A faculty recital by Alice Hopper, assistant professor of music, introduced Miss Hopper professionally to the Wesleyan and Macon communities. Miss Hopper is accompanied by Hightower Associate Professor of Music John O'Steen. Mr. O'Steen also performed with the Macon Symphony Orchestra at its Festive Holiday Concert in mid-December.

A luncheon for the guidance counselors, PROBE fair officials and area college personnel, was held in the Manget Dining Room. Shown here are Wesleyan Admissions Director E. Norman Jones; Macon Junior College President S. Aaron Hyatt; Dr. William E. Cummings, head of the Georgian Company, who was the guest speaker; Dr. Thomas F. McDonald, Vice-Chancellor for Student Services, Board of Regents, University System of Georgia and President Ackerman.

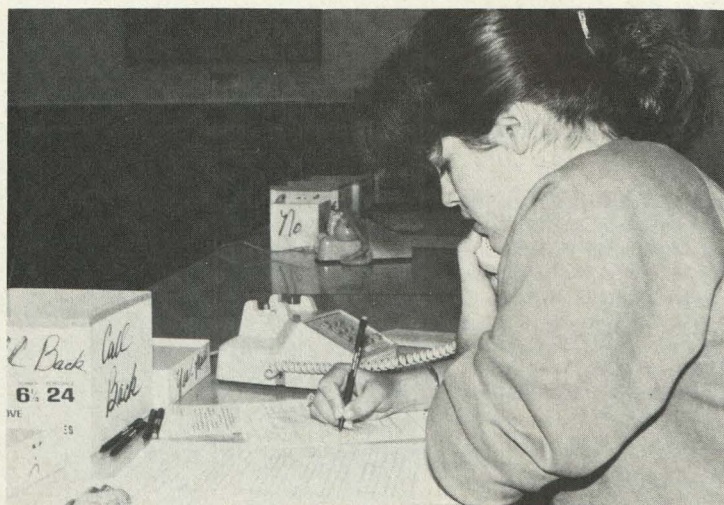

Wesleyan Scenes

Wesleyan hosted a week-long visit by Woodrow Wilson Visiting Fellow Gretchen Handwerger, a World Bank official and former deputy director of the Peace Corps. Ms. Handwerger worked closely with students, conducting classes, holding seminars for many groups and speaking at a convocation program. Here, she is shown (second from right) after having lunch with Wesleyan's international students, Dr. Jacob Quiambao, Manget Professor of World Religions and Missions, and student government representatives. Judith Davison will be Wesleyan's second Visiting Fellow in February.

The senior class, the Purple Knights, pulled off a victory in Color Rush Competition with their theme, (1986) "a Vintage Year" and their costuming — purple balloons clustered on each of the participants, transforming them into bunches of grapes.

Student volunteers helped man the phones during the recent Loyalty Fund Phonathon originating from the alumnae office. The goal of this phonathon is $90,000.

Equestrian Program Off To A Running, Trotting, Cantering, Galloping Start

Wesleyan's newly-reinstated equestrian program has proved to be extremely successful, both on campus and in the community. More than one hundred entrants participated in the first Wesleyan College Equestrian Competition, sponsored by the Alumnae Association and held at the newly-renovated riding facilities on campus. Students in the Wesleyan Equestrian program competed with other riders and several came away with top honors.

Under the direction of Barbara Sneden Exum '66, the program has developed dimensions beyond classroom and riding instruction. A mounted drill team, The Wesleyan Equestriennes, has been formed and made a proud and excellent debut in the Macon Christmas Parade in early December. The drill team also plans to participate in Macon's annual Cherry Blossom Festival Parade, to be held March 16 at 3 p.m. Also, the local 4-H Horse and Pony Club holds its weekly meetings at the riding facility, thereby giving Wesleyan students the opportunity to use their equestrian skills in the instruction of young people, and helping to extend the program into the community.
